

Directions to Field Camp from Ely, Nevada to Kalamazoo campground.

Coming from Ruth on eastbound HWY 50.

- 1.) Once in Ely travel through the city until you reach the intersection of HWY 50 and HWY 93. (E. Aultman Street and HWY 93). This is the starting point for mileage from Ely to the intersection of HWY 93 and NV 486.
- 2.) Travel through the intersection east bound on Aultman. (Straight through.) Aultman becomes HWY 93 - Northbound.
 - WARNING: At this intersection HWY 50 turns right and continues to the Great Basin. (Do not turn this way to go to camp at Kalamazoo.)

- 3.) Proceed on HWY 93 for 17 miles. At mile 11 you will come to the outskirts of McGill, Nevada. Beware! The speed limit drops to ~20 mph through McGill.

- 4.) Starting at the last building in McGill Travel another 4 to 4.5 miles to the turn off at CR 29/Duck Creek Road/NV - 486. There is a green highway sign announcing this turn off.

- 5.) Turn right on to CR 29/Duck Creek Road/NV - 486. See Figure 3 and 4. Travel 3.4 miles to the Kalamazoo Summit Road (NFD - 427).

This is a better view of the intersection.

The number refers to the Step #5. The purple line is the path to take.

- 6.) Turn left on to the dirt road, NFD 427, See Figure 5A and 5B. There is a small wooden Forest service sign on the right side of the road at this intersection. It's most likely not marked as NFD 427.

Start your Trip odometer at this point.

From here on you will be traveling on dirt roads. You will be staying on the main road, NFD-427, until the last turn when you pull into camp. Take the left fork at major Y intersections but stick to the main road.
